Subject: DIVA Screen's Johnnie Mazzocco's "Found Objects"

Johnnie Mazzocco, a graduate student in the UO Digital Arts Program, will screen and discuss her terminal project narrative film, Found Objects, at 7pm on May 17th. Free, donations appreciated.

"Found Objects" is about Claire Randall's attempts to alleviate her angst from feeling trapped in the domestic sphere. Claire's husband, Jack, owns his own business and is frequently gone from home. Jack's absence, leaves Claire in sole charge of the house and their children and interferes with her compulsion to create shadowboxes made from found objects that she finds in antique stores and on walks in the country near her home.

Mazzocco' wrote, directed and acted in this 30-minute film.
